

Imagine a place where relaxation and adventure collide. A place where you're free to be as free as you desire. Where you can let your mind idly wander into blissful nothingness. Or venture boldly into the unknown. At Aulani Resort, you can do precisely that. Located on the breathtaking island of O'ahu, Hawai'i, some might call Aulani paradise.

You choose what you want--whether it's exploring volcanoes with your family by day, getting a luxurious massage while basking in sunlight and silence, experiencing the thrill of seeing stingrays and sharks up close while you snorkel the Pacific or dancing with your sweetheart by starlight and tiki torch. There's something for everyone at Aulani, whether young or old, single or married, seasoned traveler or fresh off the mainland. With the magic only a Disney resort can bring, there's no doubt that Aulani is a place like no other.

At Aulani, it's the little things that count. Whether it's the fragrant lei laid out on your bed come nightfall or the freshly squeezed mango juice for breakfast, these little details add up to make memories of a lifetime. We'll take special care to make sure your family has the most magical experience possible. After all, in Hawai'i, we're all family, or as we like to say: ohana. So take a little break from the ordinary and join us at Aulani. We guarantee you'll come away feeling the most rejuvenated, refreshed and relaxed you've ever been.

Aulani isn't just a destination (though it's a pretty great one). It's an unforgettable experience.

What makes Aulani special? Well, a lot of things, but there's one thing in particular that is near and dear to our hearts: tradition. At Aulani, we try to keep Hawaiian tradition alive. At the core of Aulani is the value for the fundamental connection between nature and humanity which Hawaiians have long revered.

Our resort centers around the natural breathtaking beauty of the island. But our decorating stays true to tradition too--our colors mirror the brilliant red feathers of the 'I'iwi bird and the yellow petals of native hibiscus. And everywhere in Aulani, "menehune," fabled little dwarves popular in Hawaiian lore can be found making mischief, peeking out from artwork or along the wooded paths.

Guests at Aulani have a chance to better understand Hawaiian culture. Guests can sing traditional Hawaiian songs, try their hands (and hips) at the traditional hula dancing, learn to weave baskets from experts, and listen to Hawaiian folk tales by the fire at night. Kids can partake in Hawaiian crafts and games at the kid's clubhouse Aunty's Beach House. (In Hawaii, elder women are called "aunty.")

Tradition is even in our name. Hawaiians often layer rich meaning in names and like many Hawaiian words, "aulani" has two meanings. It can mean "the messenger of a chief," yet it also can mean "the one who delivers a message from a higher authority."

ulani is teeming with things to do--not to mention, Disney magic. There's no shortage of gorgeous scenery either. The white beaches, turquoise lagoons, exotic gardens, cascading waterfalls and jewel-colored fish are just a few of the splendors Aulani has to offer. Even inside the resort, there's no escaping Hawai'i. From the grand lobby floor, lava rock rises up as pools of water cross the space: one gently flows while the other rushes wildly through, echoing the Hawaiian philosophy of balance. Look even more closely at the artwork around Aulani and you'll be surprised with how much story and hidden magic Disney Imagineers have layered into the experience. With countless adventures awaiting and places to relax, eat, run wild and indulge here, there's no denying that the experience is truly magical. ^ ngelfish nibbling at a coral reef. A wooden "menehune" or fabled Hawaiian "little person" hiding in a tangle of hibiscus. A dazzling orange sunset that spreads across the sky as you stand on one of O'ahu's many lush green mountains. The joy of finally standing up, even if only momentarily, on your surf board on your first big wave. A new place means new things to discover and new things to explore. It beckons your wild side to come out. Whether it's the thrill of surfing for the first time or capturing a majestic panorama of Oahu's tropical forests on your camera, you're sure to come away from Aulani with a thirst for adventure and a plethora of stories to tell. ^

- Snorkel in Aulani's very own Rainbow Reef lagoon
- Touch velvety stingrays and other sea creatures in the conservation pool
- Go kayaking, canoeing, sailing or surfing in the ocean just steps away from your room, exclusive to Aulani guests
- Enjoy breathtaking views from Diamond Head--a 762-foot high volcanic cone, catching glimpses of geological and military history along the way
- Go biking in the tropical forest
- Go horseback-riding in majestic mountains
- Learn how to snorkel and scuba dive with Aulani's expert instructors--or explore on your own
- Swim under flowing waterfalls in nearby Waimea Falls Park
- Swim with dolphins, hug sea lions, feed turtles at Sea Life Park Hawai'i
- Hunt for menehune tucked among the forest trails

DISCOVER

We know that after a long day of adventuring, sometimes all you want to do is wind down and indulge yourself. That's why we offer a Spa & Fitness Center for all your relaxation needs.

In Hawai'i, massages are time-honored ancient healing traditions that engage and enliven the mind, spirit and senses. So treat yourself to a day at the spa in the hands of our expert masseuses.

Choose from an array of options: a full-body Balinese massage, a traditional Polynesian massage, an Indian head rub, an aromaspa body treatment with a seaweed and sage mask and much more.

Destress afterward by unwinding in the sauna and steam rooms or by loosening up with a yoga lesson at our 2000-square-foot, state-of-the-art health club. Or venture outside to get a taste of tranquility in one of our infinity edge pools.

Afterward, feel free to take a nice long shower, take your time getting ready and then meet your sweetheart for some fresh mango cocktails on our oceanside deck.

Heck, order room service if you please. After all, vacation's about doing what you want and we want to give you the best vacation possible.

Rejuvenate

At Aulani, we pride ourselves in providing the best experience possible and that includes food. Ingredients are all fresh, local and of the highest quality. Aulani's chefs have crafted menus with fusions of flavors from around the globe—that's true local cuisine. With three sit-down restaurants, room service, and quick service eating options, anyone can find their perfect meal whether they're chowing down on a quick miso-glazed salmon plate at the Lava Shack before snorkeling lessons or enjoying some pancakes with Mickey Mouse for breakfast.

Culinary exploration shouldn't stop at Aulani. Just step out the resort and you can find a family-run macadamia nut farm, savor island-brewed coffee, sail with local fisherman, nibble raw sugarcane and even pluck your own pineapple at a plantation. Once you try our fresh fare, you'll understand why Hawai'i is so famous for it. (^)

MAKAHIKI BUFFET

Named for the annual harvest festival recently revived on O'ahu to celebrate the season of bounty, Makahiki is a casual dinner buffet with an array of worldwide cuisines. The selection includes line-caught sustainable fish, Portuguese sausage pasta, and a carving station. Each morning, young and old alike can also join their favorite Disney characters for breakfast at Makahiki.

THE OLELO ROOM

AMA AMA BEACH

Open for breakfast, lunch and dinner, Ama Ama Beach Restaurant is named for a local mullet fish so delicious and popular it has inspired songs. At this rustic beachside restaurant, the fusion of fresh, local ingredients and island flavors make for distinctive dishes. Classic cocktails are served up with contemporary twists and dessert is house-made daily.

THE OLELO ROOM

While you may not be able to pronounce humuhumunukunuku apua`a (Hawai'i's state fish), the fun's in trying. At this interactive lounge, patrons learn Hawaiian words while enjoying continental breakfast, afternoon tea or a snack or cocktail from the lounge menu. Fruit-infused sangria and Hawaiian beer is served, but make sure to try `Ike Mua, the discovery drink of the day.

SOAK IT IN.

Days spent at Aulani are far from ordinary. That's because Disney is dedicated to bringing families the most memorable vacation memories possible. For generations, Disney has been known around the world for storytelling and creating magical family entertainment. Aulani is no different. Disney has strived to open your eyes to the wonders Hawai'i offers through the magic of Disney. And we've brought our attentiveness and flawless customer service with us as well so that we can take care of all the little details for you. Finally, you can relax without having to plan and worry.

A vacation here isn't just a vacation, it's an experience about those precious little moments. The moments making connections--whether it be through connecting with Mother Nature through marveling at the brilliant coral reefs, bonding with your son as you both tackle surfing for the first time, feeling sparks fly between you and that special someone over a romantic starlit dinner by the sea or connecting with one of Aulani's storytellers as they impart the rich history and culture of Hawai'i. These little moments add up.

So take a much-needed break from reality and soak it all in. That's all you need to do. We'll take care of the rest.

Luckily, "aloha" means both "hello" and "goodbye" in Hawaiian, so don't let leaving sadden you. We'll be seeing you again. ^
